500,000 CHILDREN AND FAMILIES IMPACTED THROUGH UWSN’S WORK
Dear Friends,

We are very proud of the work being done and are deeply grateful for the contributions of so many individuals, corporations, foundations, and organizations that partner with United Way. Without the support of the entire community, it would be all but impossible to fulfill our mission.

For nearly a decade, United Ways around the country have been slowly transforming away from serving only as community fundraisers to a more essential role as catalysts for systemic community change. This journey has not taken place in isolation. United Way’s current focus on community impact has taken place alongside parallel developments in the field of community revitalization and advances in collective impact. By bringing people and organizations together around innovative solutions, we change the lives of one in four people in southern Nevada.

When you support United Way, you help to provide a solid educational foundation so that children enter school prepared, graduate high school and continue to contribute to their communities. You help to ensure that children and families can live healthy lives and have the tools they need to break the cycle of poverty.

Throughout 2015 HEROES you will read the stories of the lives that were changed through the collective action and support of our community. Children have received a quality early education, volunteer hours have been deployed, teachers have received training and families in need have received crucial help. Because of you, United Way is able to provide an umbrella of support services through a host of agencies and organizations impacting our whole community.

On behalf of the board of directors, we wholeheartedly express our gratitude for all that you do to make a real difference. Whether you join our thousands of community volunteers, give through your workplace campaign, or participate in our community work, you are a part of the change that we are creating in the community.

We thank each of United Way’s many HEROES across the valley who have joined their resources and stepped forward like never before to create a brighter future for southern Nevada.

Sincerely,

Greg Korte
Volunteer Board Chairman

COMMUNITY IMPACT
providing a solid foundation to break the cycle of poverty

United Way of Southern Nevada is part of a worldwide movement to create communities where all children and families can succeed through a quality educational foundation, financial education and healthy lives.

United Way helps children and families throughout the Valley succeed. Our strategy is to provide a solid foundation with an early education for children to enter school ready to learn. We provide medical check-ups and vaccinations to start school on-time and parent training and resources to improve graduation rates.

We provide cradle-to-career support for children, because the global economy demands education beyond high school. A better educated community leads to enhanced economic development and an expansion of work opportunities resulting in a better quality of life for the entire community.

To ensure that today’s students are equipped for 21st century challenges, we provide financial education beginning in elementary school, teaching them how to save, budget and use credit wisely. These life skills, once learned and mastered, contribute to a lifelong cycle of success and financial independence.

Households that are financially stable create a stronger community and economy. United Way helps families build a firm financial foundation by connecting them with job training, stable housing and financial tools. By bringing together partners from businesses, community organizations and local government, we can help more families in our community break the cycle of poverty and succeed in life.

To find out how you can be a part of creating a better community, contact United Way of Southern Nevada at (702) 892-2300.
The beginning years are essential for learning, yet Nevada ranks last in the nation in preschool enrollment.

Research shows that capturing a child’s imagination at an early age leads to reading at grade level in the third grade, which contributes to a higher percentage of children graduating from high school.

When you give to United Way, you ensure children and families receive the support they need to succeed:

- Access to a quality early education to provide a solid foundation
- Medical check-ups and vaccinations to start school on-time
- Parent training and resources to improve graduation rates

GOAL:

EVERY CHILD WILL HAVE AN OPPORTUNITY TO RECEIVE A QUALITY EARLY EDUCATION.

providing a solid early education foundation
In order to help children succeed, we are focusing our resources on providing a quality early education during their most formative years so children begin school ready to learn.

The impact of early education:
- Increase in high school graduation rates
- Increase in skilled employees
- Reduce the number of those in poverty
- Attract more businesses and increase job opportunities

Studies found those who went to preschool:
- Had improved school performance with increased math and language abilities
- Had improved peer interactions
- Were more likely to graduate high school
- Were more likely to hold a job
- Had higher annual earnings

To help more children access an early education, we invite you to join us at uwsn.org/champ4children.

We invite you to join us and BE A CHAMPION FOR CHILDREN

Carolina’s mom Maria did not have the resources to take Carolina to the dentist. Through your support, Carolina is now receiving preventative dental care and learning good dental habits early so hopefully she never has to struggle with cavities and painful dental decay.

“More than 51 million school attendance hours were lost last year in this nation due to children with oral disease,” said Nancy Dockery, Future Smiles Program Manager. “We can help prevent that.”

“I made the decision to become a member of United Way’s Tocqueville Society because it is the right thing to do. I find it rewarding to give back to the community and see the funding results. There are so many lives that are touched by United Way and so many people willing to help make that difference. The experience is very touching.”

Summer, a single mom who lives paycheck to paycheck, is challenged with raising her active four-year old son, Daylon and juggling school and a career. Without United Way’s support, Summer would not have been able to send her son to preschool. “I wouldn’t want my son to start school behind,” said Summer.

Daylon has now learned his alphabet and can count to 20 without interruption and is ready to succeed in school and life.
United Way of Southern Nevada gratefully acknowledges the 2014-15 Tocqueville Society Co-chairs, Laura and Jay Barrett and all of the Steering Committee members.

“We have been very fortunate in this community and we feel it’s a responsibility and a privilege to be able to pay back through the Tocqueville Society.”

United Way staff and more than 130 NV Energy employee volunteers spent a Saturday helping low-income seniors during the Senior Energy Assistance Expo. By the time the last customer was served, more than $344,000 in assistance had been given to 1,210 senior households through Project REACH (Relief through Energy Assistance to Prevent Customer Hardships).

Funded by NV Energy and administered through United Way of Southern Nevada, Project REACH is a year-round program designed to help vulnerable adults 62 years and older, medically fragile or Reserve and National Guard members who meet the income guidelines have access to energy assistance. THROUGH YOUR SUPPORT:
United Way of Southern Nevada’s Women’s Leadership Council (WLC) is part of a national network of dedicated women philanthropists who have collectively raised over $1B in supporting United Way’s mission to improve lives and build stronger communities. In southern Nevada, the WLC has raised almost $1.9M in just eight years, investing their dollars in crucial projects which are changing lives. From teaching children through innovative early learning techniques, improving math and reading scores for K-7th students, empowering at-risk students to graduate high school, providing scholarships for young women, helping families become financially self-sufficient and providing medical services for abused and homeless women and children, these dynamic and generous women are truly change agents for the community. Visit uwsn.org/wlc to learn more.

The annual WLC Suit Drive brings our community together for the donation of suits and professional items for women in need. These items are donated to agencies serving women in back-to-work programs. While we gathered almost 12,000 items in November 2014, it takes just one suit to enable success and independence. Through this community event, we really are changing lives, one hanger at a time!
United Way of Southern Nevada gratefully acknowledges the 2014-15 Women’s Leadership Council Co-chairs, Rhonda Clausen and Angel Williams and all of the committee co-chairs and members.

They come from two different worlds but Alyssa Mayor and Megan Thompson have one distinct commonality, both were in need of help to attend college and received the United Way Women’s Leadership Council Emerging Leadership Award for Women.

Alyssa was born in Quezon City, Philippines and moved to Las Vegas in the summer of 2004. There are many career options in Alyssa’s horizon, but she definitely has a bright future.

“This award is so important to me because I am surrounded by people who never stop changing the world for the better, and I strive to become like them,” said Alyssa.

With aspirations of competing as Miss USA, Megan was appointed to the Nevada Youth Legislature for the 2013-15 session and is actively engaged in the community. “This award helps financially fund my opportunity to acquire a college education so that I can use my degree and my career as the catalyst to do bigger and better things for my community and my country,” explained Megan.

“I was inspired to join the Women’s Leadership Council by the stories of those who were able to get a stable job to provide for their families or gain skills that provide a sense of possibility and a pathway. When people’s basic needs are met, we are able to transform our community.”

In partnership with Spread the Word Nevada, the WLC sponsors “Breakfast with Books” once a month. Families are treated to a light breakfast, a book reading, and a free developmentally appropriate and enriching book to build their home libraries. The excitement and smiles on the children’s faces as they choose their new books are truly heartwarming. This important program promotes English literacy and fluency by increasing the number of available tools to promote language acquisition. The participating elementary schools are Jeffers, Paradise, Petersen, Twin Lakes and Whitney.

The WLC Family Engagement Resource Centers (FERCs) are located in four local high schools and target underserved teens who are at risk of dropping out. Through their involvement, these teens and their families receive resources to strengthen the home-school connection and assist in keeping students on track to graduate. The FERCs are located at Clark, Sunrise Mountain, Eldorado and Silverado. In 2014, the very first cohort of this project reached graduation eligibility. We proudly watched 434 seniors who had been identified by CCSD as having a 100 percent risk of dropping out, walk the stage to receive their diploma.

Supporting girls in the lifelong endeavor to increase physical activity and healthy eating, WLC sponsored this fun run and development program for Girls on the Run, which incorporates positive youth development curricula. It’s an amazing program that includes exercise, mentoring, learning and goal setting.
The Young Philanthropists Society (YPS) is a dynamic group of philanthropists with a mission to make a difference in children’s lives through volunteerism, mentorship and events by harnessing the energy, commitment and diverse skills sets of the next generation of leaders.

This engaged group of contributors has raised over $490,000 in six years and has successfully launched the “Piggy Bank” Program an innovative, real-world solution to teach students the importance of saving.

To learn more about the Young Philanthropists Society, visit uwsn.org/yps

YPS members spearheaded the creation of the “Piggy Bank” program to teach children, grades K-5, to save. A collaboration between YPS, Silver State Schools Credit Union (SSSCU) and Andson Inc., the “Piggy Bank” provides a fun, hands-on interactive program allowing children to save their earnings in a real-life bank at their school.

YPS has successfully opened two “Piggy Banks” at Walter Bracken STEAM Academy and Howard E. Hollingsworth Elementary School with the third “Piggy Bank” to be opened at Walter Long Elementary School in the Fall of 2015.
United Way of Southern Nevada gratefully acknowledges the 2014-15 Young Philanthropists Society Co-chairs, Chelsie Campbell and Christopher H. Way and all of the committee co-chairs and members.

With his sights set on being a professional soccer player, Emmanuel may only be in second grade but he knows it’s going to take a lot of work to accomplish his dream.

A creative, imaginative and active boy, Emmanuel likes art and drawing Captain America. If his dreams of becoming a soccer player don’t work out, Emmanuel has a back-up plan. He wants to become an FBI agent, “to make the world a better place.”

Through the “Piggy Bank” program at his school, Walter Bracken STEAM Academy, Emmanuel is learning how to save.

“When I told my parents I had saved $705 dollars they were really happy because all that I have been saving is going to go for my college,” said Emmanuel.

A hard worker, Emmanuel earns money by working around the house and helping his father with projects like fixing the refrigerator.

“If you get more money you can save for college,” said Emmanuel. “So you can reach your goal and do whatever you want afterwards.”
YPS expanded their reach into the community by their partnership with the Down Syndrome Organization of Southern Nevada via the Learning Program, designed to deliver evidence based educational support to children, parents and teachers in the areas of literacy and math. Offered throughout the school year, this program provides additional individualized instruction to children and their caregivers, so their needs are met and they have the greatest chances for success. YPS’ partnership allows this valuable program to double their capacity and allows for a second age group, 7-8 year olds, to receive this critical support.

With a commitment to children and their health, YPS helped 2,500 children access Desert Reign’s Sports and Nutrition Camps for children in 2014. Camps provide immersion into physical activity and fitness as well as the ABCs of proper nutrition and healthy eating. These camps aid in helping children succeed cognitively, socially and athletically.

Books and Buddies helps facilitate reading and literacy in the home. YPS’ support of this program allows for expansion of this program to reach an additional 150 at-risk children in partnership with Spread the Word Nevada. Through mentoring, book supplies, and comprehension inquiry, post-test results demonstrate the effectiveness of this important mentoring program.

YPS MISSION:
To make a difference in children’s lives through volunteerism, mentorship and events by harnessing the energy, commitment and diverse skills sets of the next generation of leaders.

Nonprofit professionals joined to reduce the social costs of poverty, strengthen the workforce and build a more prosperous and sustainable community through the “Bridges Out of Poverty” workshop at United Way.

Bringing together front line staff, counselors, employers and community organization employees, the workshop advanced strategies to improve job retention rates, build resources, improve outcomes and support those who are moving out of poverty.
United Way works to eradicate poverty through the Southern Nevada Capacity Building VISTA project. The project’s overall goal is to enrich the lives of southern Nevadans by strengthening UWSN partner agencies.

VISTA members like Kiah and Alex help with the operations of local nonprofits and have implemented programs that will have a lasting impact on our community.

Kiah developed a strategy to increase access to quality early childhood education. Alex organized and contracted a major media feature on a Spanish news station to help a nonprofit gain increased exposure and support for their community work.

Through your support VISTA members have engaged 2,500 volunteers and more than $14,000 in resources in 2014-15.
Learning at an early age the power of volunteering and the path to success, 995 NGAGE high school students committed their time to building a better future for our community. In the 2014-2015 school year, United Way recognized 169 students representing 24 high schools for serving a minimum of 100 hours. Participating students gained access to community, business and personal experiences and friendships that will last a lifetime.

Capucine Dean now has the tools she needs to help young preschool learners in her classroom be prepared for kindergarten through United Way’s early education training.

“My students have learned to talk to each other and problem solve. They can now look at a problem and figure it out,” said Capucine.

Through the training, Capucine learned effective strategies to capture children’s attention so they recognize their numbers, alphabet and begin to learn how to write.

“After the training I learned it’s all about the kids. They become better students when I know how to teach them.”

THROUGH YOUR SUPPORT:
MORE THAN 79,873 HOURS OF TRAINING WERE PROVIDED TO EARLY EDUCATORS SINCE 2010.
Immunizations can save your child’s life. Because of advances in medical science, your child can be protected against more diseases than ever before. Some diseases that once injured or killed thousands of children, have been eliminated completely and others are close to extinction – primarily due to safe and effective vaccines. Polio was once America’s most-feared disease, causing death and paralysis across the country, but today, thanks to vaccinations, there are no reports of polio in the United States. Immunization protects others you care about, can save your family time and money and ensures that your child will be able to attend school.

THROUGH YOUR SUPPORT:
MORE THAN 308,643 IMMUNIZATIONS HAVE BEEN PROVIDED TO CHILDREN FROM BIRTH TO AGE 10 SINCE 2010.
Deploying volunteers in the community, UWSN manages the AmeriCorps national service program. Service members like Hector Lizaola help families, students and children live better lives. Hector helps students learn how to save through the YPS “Piggy Bank” Program. Encouraging students to save for their goals, Hector also uses his bilingual skills to help parents and students learn the importance of saving.

Helping students with their homework and graduate from high school, serving food to families in need, leading youth leadership camping and hiking trips and teaching students how to apply for college, AmeriCorps members become role models to the students and children they serve.

Through your support:
More than 204,091 hours of AmeriCorps service have been deployed in the community since 2010.
Providing a free service for families across the Valley, United Way has helped more than 26,000 families get their taxes filed since 2010 by IRS-certified volunteers.

Kayla described the process of getting her taxes prepared as easy. She didn’t have to wait in a line and in thirty minutes the process was completed. “I did a happy dance when I found out I would be receiving a $1,000 refund,” exclaimed Kayla. “I was overjoyed!”

For more than eleven years, United Way has been instrumental in ensuring that the needs of hungry and homeless people are met by serving as the secretariat for the Emergency Food and Shelter Program (EFSP).

With a goal to ensure a fast response to those who need it most, the program was created in 1983 and has provided $3.3 billion in Federal funds during its 30-year history. In 2014-15, UWSN distributed $1.23 million to the community to ensure that those in the neediest areas receive help.

UNITED WAY DISTRIBUTED $1.23 MILLION TO THE COMMUNITY TO HELP THOSE IN NEED IN 2014-2015.
United Way is leading a collective impact initiative, Mission Achieves, which is focused on improving the educational pipeline between North Las Vegas high schools and postsecondary institutions. The purpose of Mission Achieves is to critically examine this pipeline and develop effective strategies to increase high school graduation, college enrollment and college completion rates.

Mission Achieves is a Lumina Foundation partner and is working hard to help increase the nation’s postsecondary degree attainment rate from 33% to 60% by the year 2025. The Mission Achieves collaborative is currently discussing barriers to student success, developing strategies to address these barriers and implementing them in our North Las Vegas high schools.

Bringing together companies, volunteers and resources to meet the growing needs of our community, United Way’s Community Engagement Team has led more than 20 projects this year. A trusted resource, for the second year United Way connected the Paris, Bally’s and Planet Hollywood management team volunteers with a volunteer opportunity to make a big difference.

Creating an inviting haven for students, teachers and parents of Walter V. Long Elementary School, volunteers saw a marked change in just a couple of hours.
Engaging families in their children’s early learning is pivotal to ensuring that our future generation can read, write and has the tools they need to succeed in school and in life. Through United Way’s Family Engagement Resource Centers at local preschools, caregivers and parents like Shelley, Amanda’s mom, receive training and insight on how to help their children learn during the most formative years.

“They are awesome because you learn what is going on and how to incorporate what your child is learning in school to help encourage your child to learn,” said Shelley. “Now, Amanda is ready for kindergarten and has the skills to interact with other children and the educational structure she needs to succeed.”
With a bright spirit and an infectious smile, Lynn Stewart is committed to changing lives through servicing the community. A southern California girl who moved to Vegas during her freshman year of high school, Lynn loves the community that she now calls home and works to make a difference as United Way’s Community Engagement Manager. “I love to volunteer and give back!” exclaimed Lynn. “It’s that rewarding feeling of being a part of making someone’s life better or sharing our blessings that supersedes the work.”

In her position, Lynn has the unique opportunity to work with companies visiting the Valley that are planning engagement opportunities for their employees. “We make their vision a reality,” said Lynn. “I am so moved by large corporations that take time out of their training or conference schedule to leave a positive, progressive mark in Las Vegas.”
United Way helps to ensure that donor contributions go to credible agencies that have received a “good housekeeping” seal of approval through its accreditation program. United Way accredited agencies receive formal acknowledgement that their work meets the highest standards of excellence for nonprofits and provides the agency the opportunity to be part of a strong, healthy and positive network of nonprofit organizations serving the needs of our community.

To become an accredited agency, organizations complete an application that is reviewed by community volunteers and business leaders. UWSN orchestrates a thorough process that ensures UWSN accredited agencies are those with exemplary fiscal accountability and the capacity to produce outcomes and provide accountability reports.

With more than 500 people in attendance, United Way of Southern Nevada’s “Flip Through Summer,” a free family fun summer kickoff event at Springs Preserve in 2015 was an absolute success. A special day of celebration, imagination and the magic of some of the most beloved books and characters, children got excited about reading and writing and pledged to read 8,211 books throughout the summer.

During this family fun-filled event, children lined up to add their own flair to the “The World’s Greatest Story” and visited themed book nooks with live characters reading favorite children’s books. The event also featured a book swap, live entertainment, face painting, child-friendly activities, special giveaways, community family resources and complimentary ice cream and Starbucks coffee and tea.

The event encourages summer reading, since children can lose as much as three months of reading comprehension during the summer.
Through United Way’s Crisis Fund giving options, employees across the Valley are receiving help in their time of need.

A crisis fund recipient, Mark had his home burglarized and set on fire. He lost everything and did not have renter’s insurance. Mark received the help he needed through this crisis so he was able to purchase necessities and pay his rent.

“By partnering with United Way we are able to engage our team members with a dynamic campaign that showcases our Caring Culture and educates them on the positive impact they are making in our community through their support. We admire the energy and enthusiasm that UPS brings to their United Way workplace campaign. With an engaging kickoff, carwash and “UPS Idol” event, UPS truly demonstrates their commitment to the community as a TOP 10 Community Champion. Thank you, UPS, for everything you do and your commitment to our community!
We provide an umbrella of support for the entire community by managing workplace campaigns at more than 300 companies. Through your support, we deploy strategic campaigns that raise more than $6.1 million for hundreds of nonprofits serving our community.

With generous support to organizations like St. Jude’s Ranch for Children, Inc.; Catholic Charities of Southern Nevada; Nathan Adelson Hospice, Inc.; American Red Cross; Safe Nest/TADC; The Shade Tree and Salvation Army Clark County Command, our workplace campaign touches the lives of one in four living in southern Nevada.

Through our workplace campaign, we help to ensure that those in need are fed and receive shelter and that no one ends the journey of life alone, afraid or in pain through hospice services. At-risk children, young adults and families are empowered to create a new future in a caring community. We help to provide disaster-related relief assistance and shelter for children, families and women and addiction recovery programs.
Erin Peace was not convinced that early childhood education was important until she sent her two children, Jaxon age five and Jaydon age two, to a quality early childcare center. Now she has a different perspective.

“I have seen such a significant development in both of them,” explained Erin. “It’s completely changed my mind about early childhood education.”

Without United Way’s help, Erin’s children would not be able to attend preschool.

“Preschool is important for my children's educational, social and emotional development,” said Erin. “They are able to grasp and learn a lot more and work in teams. I have seen it made a difference in the lives of my children and others as well.”
Thank you NV Energy for all you do to LIVE UNITED for United Way of Southern Nevada (UWSN). With a Leadership Breakfast, golf tournament and multiple engaging events, NV Energy employees truly stepped up to support our community. Thank you to Manager, Community Relations Doretha Easler (UWSN Liaison); Manager, Safety and Health Michael Smith (UWSN Campaign Co-chair); Project Manager, Customer Service Shannon Brown (UWSN Campaign Chair) and Senior Community Relations Advisor Susan Boswell (UWSN Campaign Coordinator - not pictured above) and the NV Energy Campaign team. As our leading TOP 10 Community Champion, we appreciate all of your dedication and support.
